 - A. If you want to continue to own the real estate after selling your practice, you can continue to do so. What rent do you wish to charge the purchaser of your dental practice? Rent $_____ Who will pay the property taxes, insurance, and repairs?

 - B. If you want to sell the real estate at the same time that the practice is sold, we will eventually need an appraisal by a state licensed real estate appraiser.
- 14. We need an appraisal of all the tangible assets in the dental office including the equipment, supplies, office equipment, and office furniture. You can use your own dental equipment supply house or independent dental repair person to do the appraisal. If you do so, don't tell them that you are selling your practice

We highly recommend using Steinman Services. He has done hundreds of practice appraisals for ADS Midwest and has always done a great job.
